BELFAST RIOTING WORST IN HISTORY; NINE NEW DEATHS

Total of Twenty Killed Since Disorders Started Last Wednesday.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, August 31.—Nine persons are dead as a result of yesterday's rioting in this city, another man being killed last night and two of those wounded in yesterday's disorders dying. Revised reports as to casualties show that since the rioting began last Wednesday twenty have been killed.

Knots of soldiers held strategic points in the affected areas during the night and it was stated this morning that troops occupy virtually all the police barracks in the city.

Ominous signs of further trouble ushered in the new day in riot-torn Belfast. The only actual outbreak reported early this forenoon was the stoning of employees of Mackin's foundry in the notorious Kashmir road district, but groups of men collected at many corners along Falls road, King street and Royal avenue, giving unmistakable indications that trouble might come.

Disorders Reach Peak.

Never in the history of Belfast was there such disorder as prevailed yesterday. Mobs fought with wild fury in different sections of the town, while in the men in the streets the city developed wherever the opposing factions met. Girl workers fought like wildcats in the streets, while the nationalists made an attack on unionists in the Falls road district.

The city was placed under the curfew ordinance last night and there were rumors that martial law would be declared, but nothing definite was done by the authorities.

Pause at Tea Hour.

Belfast's tea hour yesterday gave pause to the combatants, but they soon got under way again, though on a small scale. The Carlisle Circus district, in the north of the city, scene of a riot last night, was the warfare there being of a house-to-house character.

Dogel's pass, near Sandy row, the Orange quarter, in the south of the city, burst into activity during the day. The military fired on the rioters and ambulances were immediately requisitioned.

The fury of the mob was unbounded in one instance a man, who was seen to be possessed of a revolver, was fallen upon by a mob. He was knocked down and savagely kicked and beaten and his revolver was wrested away from him.

It is believed that all five of the persons killed in the York street fighting yesterday were victims of civilian shooting. Four of them were only nineteen years old.

There has been much talk of the application of martial law, but it is believed that the chances for this are remote.

Blasting Inferno.

The Shankill district of Belfast late last night was a blazing inferno. Nearly a score of fires had been started and virtually all the grocery stores and public houses owned by Catholics in the district were being destroyed.

The police fired on the crowd during the disturbances, inflicting several casualties.

Proclamation issued at unionist headquarters says:

"Sir Edward Carson (the Ulster leader) has called on all loyalists to assist the authorities in quelling disturbances and restoring peace."

"Negotiations have been proceeding with the government, and an important statement is expected to be delivered to the Ulster unionist council on Friday night."

"Meanwhile all loyalists are earnestly urged to exercise the utmost restraint and forbearance, however great the provocation they may be subjected to, and to comply with the orders issued by the military authorities."

WHEELER DECLARES DRY LAWS POORLY ENFORCED

Asserts Some U. S. Agents and Judges Encourage Bootlegging.

Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the legal department of the anti-Saloon League, is not satisfied with the prohibition law enforcement, which, according to him, is most complicated of the laws in several states.

"The reasons for it are apparent," Mr. Wheeler says in a public statement. "Nine states have no enforcement codes. In addition, in Ohio, California, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the legislatures enacted enforcement codes and they have not gone into effect because of a referendum vote forced by the wets for this fall."

"The federal forces in thirteen states are inadequate to enforce the law. Some of the federal agents are not doing the best, while a limited number have been corrupted by the liquor dealers who take long chances on selling liquor."

"A few United States district judges have encouraged bootleggers by giving small fines and displaying antagonism to the law in the conduct of cases brought before them," continued Mr. Wheeler. "There have been cases where several district attorneys have required evidence of a character, before they will act, that precludes effective enforcement, and then, too, we must remember that we are in the midst of a political campaign. It is always harder to enforce liquor laws at such times—the reason is apparent."

DIES WHILE ON VISIT HERE.

Albert Walker, colored, thirty-four years old, New Haven, Conn., en route to Florida, stopped here yesterday to visit his brother at 117 9th street. He was taken sick at his brother's home and died before a physician could be summoned. His death was due to a hemorrhage.
